The company GD Druckguss s.r.o. was founded in 2016. Its business activities consist in the provision of comprehensive services in the field of die casting of zinc alloy parts. The company's customer portfolio primarily covers the industrial production sector, especially the electrical engineering industry, construction work, and sanitary installations.

The management of GD Druckguss s.r.o. understands the primary importance of building and maintaining high-quality business relationships with its customers and business partners built on trust, reliability and satisfaction. The company's business philosophy, including relationships with its customers, has long been defined in particular by the following elements:

- We care about constantly increasing our company's prestige and competitive ability.
- Under no circumstances should there ever be a doubt in the customer's mind that we are the very best company that they can work with.
- We strive to continuously improve and streamline the implementation of our organisation's products so as to exceed the expectations of our existing and potential customers, and to ensure that we carry out our activities in full compliance with applicable legislative standards and regulations.
- We place emphasis on the constant improvement of our employees' qualifications and personal qualities. We motivate them and make full use of their skills to the benefit of the company.
- We constantly maintain quality cooperation with our key suppliers.
- We pay constant attention to the modernisation and renewal of our company's machine fleet.

The management of GD Druckguss s.r.o. is aware that its activities may have negative impacts on the environment. When performing its activities and using its products, the company takes great care to protect the environment and to minimise the negative impact on its individual elements. We are committed to following a path that protects and revitalises the environment, and we take responsibility for it. The company management considers compliance with legislation and other environmental requirements to form the basis for a continuous process of improving environmental protection, and we are committed to fulfilling these requirements.

The aim of the company management's decision to introduce a management system in accordance with the provisions of standards ISO 9001 and ISO 14001 is to further improve and enhance the products that the organisation offers to customers, to increase the company's efficiency, including flexible responses to market requirements and especially to customer needs, and to increase the total volume of implemented orders.

The management will lead the company to lasting prosperity and a constantly improving technical level and quality which will always keep the company's customers satisfied and, at the same time, will be resistant to market fluctuations and the influence of competitors.

To fulfil the established policy, the company management is committed to constantly improving and streamlining the effectiveness of the management system. In order to do so, the management has gained the involvement, effort and responsibility of all employees. The company strives to continuously develop the skills and abilities of its employees, and leads by example through its commitment and continuous activity.

GD Druckguss s.r.o. will communicate its management system policy to the public, state and local government bodies and customers through appropriate channels.
